BACK FOR MORE (HOSEA)

Verse 1
What keeps you coming back for more?
You know she'll hurt you in the end
You'll only see a stranger in the road
As you come running 'round the bend

Chorus 1
I guess you see what I don't see
A fragile songbird looking for her song
A fragile life with lots of living yet to do
And by her side is where you belong
How I hate to see you blind
From sunlight dancing off her wedding gown
And if you keep her on a pedestal
I think she'll only let you down

Verse 2
Why are you running out the door?
Why aren't you tired of this charade?
No one would ever think the less of you
If you forget the vows you made

(Chorus 1)

Bridge
Oh, what I would give
To learn how to love like you
To have love that's not like a shifting cloud
Like the passing of morning dew
How I long to know
The joy in the tears you cry
From a love that destroys every record of wrongs
A love that's beyond you and I

Verse 3
Oh God, forgive us where we stand
We know too well what we have done
We've turned our backs and mocked your sacred name
And everything under the sun

Chorus 2

But, You see what I don't see
The life you breathed on us to sing Your song
And the life You gave so we could live forevermore
And by Your side is where we belong
Every time we let You down
We see the ground, You see a stepping stone
And though You know too well the pain in store
You keep on coming back for more.

Words and music by Mark Peabody. Copyright Mark Peabody 2014.